Vice principal named to fill high school's interim seat

Board president expects WUSD to fix any Brown Act violations, strive for future compliance

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

Jose Rodriguez, a former vice principal at River City High School, has been tapped to serve as interim principal at RCHS until a search for a long-term replacement is complete.

Superintendent Dennis Kelleher announced the appointment on Friday, after the school board met in closed session the previous evening to discuss the matter.

Dr. Gary Hartman, who had previously been announced as the choice for the interim post, "withdrew his candidacy," the announcement stated.

Because Rodriguez will take the interim principal position, and fellow vice principal Leslie Heller has left employment at the school, RCHS now has vacancies in both its vice principal positions. Dr. Kelleher has announced that social science teacher Rick Hall will fill one interim seat as vice principal. English teacher Rhonda Kuhn-Tiwari will fill the other.

Discussion of Hartman's candidacy for the interim principal's post hit a snag last month after the board reportedly appointed him in closed session, going beyond what was listed on their agenda. This possible violation of the state's "Brown Act" led to a special school board session last week for the board to reconsider the interim principal slot and discuss (also in closed session) the possible legal violation.

Board President Pat Flint said she expects the board to take whatever necessary measures to fix any such errors, and to prevent them from occurring in the future. The News-Ledger has reported several possible and probably open meetings laws violations by the board in recent weeks.

"We are working very hard to update ourselves on the Brown Act so we don't have any more violations," said Flint. "We were given new Brown Act books with our agendas. I believe at the next meeting (Aug. 19) we will have a discussion item on the Brown Act. We probably violated it unknowingly at the time (of the discussion about Hartman)."

Barbara Blenderman, a Los Angeles attorney who works with the First Amendment Coalition, emphasized that the law requires local government to take pains to keep the public informed.

"Meetings of boards are supposed to be open and public," she commented, "so the public can know what is going on. Exceptions to enter closed session are drawn narrowly."

Superintendent Kelleher could not be reached for comment this week or last week.

Downtown Association's street faire includes reading to kids

VOLUNTEER JOLAINE BEERS shares a plot & some characters with several young visitors to the downtown area last week

West Sacramento's Downtown Association celebrated a "Summer Sizzler" event July 31 to promote local businesses. The day began with a pancake breakfast hosted by the Masonic Lodge, and ended with w street dance to music by Kro-nose and Miss Freida and the Cajun Fusiliers. During the middle of the day, downtown retailers held a sidewalk shop faire and donated many prizes and gift certificates to shoppers.

The East Yolo Friends of the Library participated by arranging reading aloud to children. Forty children enjoyed stories read by 16 different volunteers. Margie Yutzy served as a welcoming person and organizers, and reading volunteers included Betty Sokolich, Cindy Tuttle, Kay Munn, Kendra Dreischler, Pauli Watson, Dee Tyndale, Larry Wyneken, Kay Cheever, Ethel Connors, Sally Brown, Wes and Jolaine Beers, Diane Stewart, Phyllis Runyon, Jane Nagel and Michele McDougle.

First woman president of WSLL reflects on season

By Daryl Fisher
Features Editor

This past season, for the first time in its proud 44-year history, the West Sacramento Little League elected a woman to be its president.

Pam Geivett, a longtime West Sacramento resident who is employed by the Washington Unified School District as a secretary at Westmore Oaks Elementary School, not only did a fine job, but she also lived to talk about it.

"I knew it was going to be a challenge," said Pam, "but to tell you the truth, I was surprised to find out just how time-consuming being the president of the West Sacramento Little League really is. Thankfully, I had a very supportive Board of Directors who were a great help, but there were still a few times when it seemed like there just wasn't enough time in the day to get everything done."

PAM GEIVETT

The West Sacramento Little League, which was founded in 1955 by a group of local citizens including James Cameron, Bob Lukins, Red McKinnon, Jack Dunlap, and Richard Finley, has now grown to the point where it fields approximately 450 young athletes playing on almost 40 teams, and with substantial Southport housing development just around the corner, those numbers are expected to dramatically increase in the years to come.

"Hopefully in the near future," said Pam, "the City of West Sacramento will help us enlarge our facilities, which are just about at their capacity. Plus our Senior League teams currently have to play their games at River City High School, and it would be really nice if all of our teams could play at the same facility."

When asked how the on-field results of her year as league president had gone, Pam said, "The season itself could have hardly turned out better. A number of our division races were very exciting and our 9-10 and 11-12 and 15-16 year-old All-Stars all won their district championships and went on to play in the sections. Another thing which made the year fun was how well Washington Little League did in All-Star competition. It's not often that you see two little leagues from the same town do so well in post-season play."

'Another thing which made the year fun was how well Washington Little League did in All-Star competition. It's not often that you see two little leagues from the same town do so well in post-season play.'

What surprised Pam the most about being the league president was how many meetings and phone calls at all times of the day and night were necessary to get everything organized and ready to go for the start of the season.

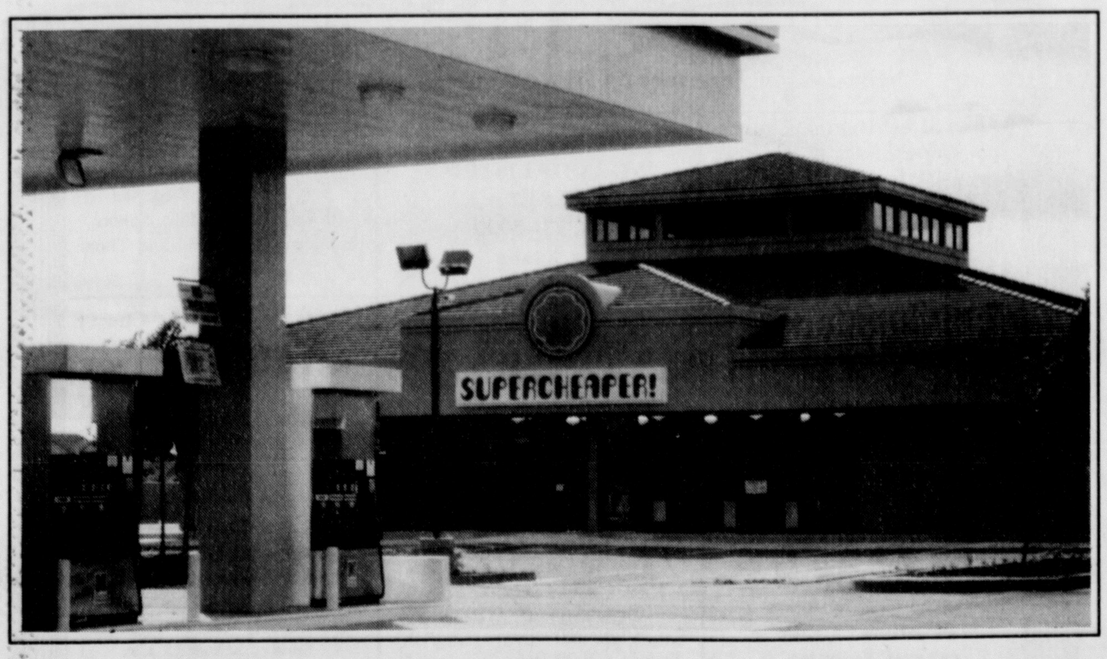

"Work for the next year actually begins only a month or so after every season ends," explained Pam. "Our two main fundraisers, which are our candy sale and our Christmas tree lot, take quite a bit of organization and countless hard-working volunteers to make them profitable. Plus uniforms have to be ordered, managers and coaches have to be recruited and assigned to teams, bats and balls and other equipment have to be purchased and handed out, the fields have to be prepared and kept in good shape, umpires have to be found, you have to pray that it won't rain on the day of the parade, and the list of things that need to get done goes on and on. It takes a lot of very dedicated parents to get everything ready to go by Opening Day, but when you see how much fun our players end up having once the season starts, it's all more than worth it."

"Pam did a great job this year," said Dave Blake, a former president of the West Sacramento Little League himself. "It's not easy to get everyone pulling in the same direction, but Pam managed to do it. Plus Little League is just one of the many areas where Pam volunteers her time and she is always doing her best to make things better for the young people of this community."

Dale Drozd, who has been the secretary of the West Sacramento Little League for the last two years said, "I can't think of anyone in the recent past who has contributed more of their time and energy to Little League than Pam Geivett. And as president she not only did the big things required of her, but she also tried really hard to do all the little things that make such a big difference to the kids. I just can't say enough about the job she's done. She's been fantastic."

Pam is married to Mort Geivett, who is a high school principal, and they have three sons; Morton, who is 17; Tyler, who is 14; and Jacob, 11.

Controversial Southport store sold before opening

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

A soon-to-be-opened gas station and discount grocery store in Southport was sold on Friday by The Customer Company, which had to fight some residents and city officials for the right to build the "Super Cheaper" market.

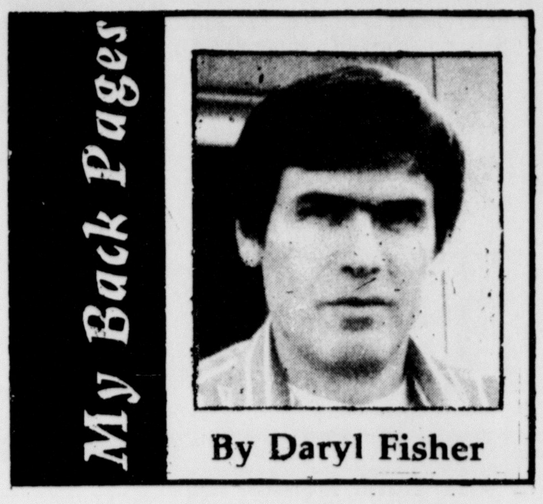

The store, located at Linden Road's southern intersection with Jefferson Blvd., was sold to Tower Mart, which also operates a location on West Capitol Ave. in West Sacramento.

Ned Roscoe of The Customer Company told the News-Ledger that his firm is selling its "Super Cheaper" stores and concentrating on another line of businesses.

"We were riding two horses," he said. "We had both Cigarettes Cheaper and the discount grocery stores. We had 11 discount groceries and 460 Cigarette Cheapers."

Do you know what your children are watching on TV?

I ran across an alarming article in the newspaper the other day that said the American Academy of Pediatrics is now strongly recommending that parents should not allow children under the age of two to watch television. Not only that, they also said older children should not have television sets in their bedrooms and that pediatricians should have parents fill out a "media history" during office visits.

The article went on to say that violence in movies and television has been directly linked to violent behavior in young people in studies by the American Medical Association, the American Psychological Association, the American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry and the National Institute of Mental Health.

"Television viewing can affect the mental, social and physical health of young people," said the article, "and in babies, proper brain development can even be retarded."

The part of the article which really caught my eye, though, said, "televisions and computers (which allow access to movies, video and computer games, music videos and the Internet) should not be kept in children's bedrooms, but in common rooms, where parents can monitor their children's use of them."

After I completed reading the article, I turned to my wife and said, "All of our kids have a television set in their own rooms now, don't they?"

"Not very good ones," she replied, "but yes, they do. Why?"

"Do we have any idea what they're watching in there?"

"Not really, I guess," she admitted. "Why?"

"Well," I said, "a bunch of pediatricians are saying kids should only watch an hour or two of quality television per day, and that we should be watching it with them."

"Really?"

"And that they shouldn't have a TV or a computer in their room, either."

"Well, I guess that makes sense," said my wife, "but I don't think it would to them. But if you want to try and take their TV's and computers out of their rooms, I'll back you up, even if it does mean watching endless music videos and cartoons in the front room."

"Are you kidding?" I said, quickly having second thoughts. "There'd be a bloody revolt if I tried to take away their TV's and computers. I'd never make it out of their rooms alive."

Later that night, I decided the very least I could do was stroll unannounced into my youngest son's bedroom and see what he was watching on his television set.

"What are you doing in here?" were the first suspicious words out of his mouth.

"Oh, I just dropped in for a little visit."

"Why? I cleaned up my room like mom said to."

"I know, I can see that. And it looks very nice."

"Then what do you want?"

"Well, I was just kinda wondering what you were watching tonight on television?"

"But the TV isn't even on, Dad," said my obviously confused son, pointing to his black television screen.

"I know, I can see that," I assured him, "but I was just wondering what kind of programs you normally watch on television. I mean, what are some of your favorites?"

"Why do you want to know that?"

"I just do, okay?"

"Well," he finally answered, "lets see, I like the Simpsons, and I like South Park, and...."

"Now wait," I interrupted, "aren't both of those shows kinda gross and filled with violence?"

"South Park is," he agreed, "but not the Simpsons. The Simpson family is hecka cool!"

"I see, but I don't know, maybe you shouldn't be watching a show like South Park all by yourself? What do you think?"

"But I don't watch it all by myself," he quickly assured me. "I usually watch it with Ty and Paul (his older brothers).

"So, all three of you are watching that garbage?" I asked.

He nodded his head, still not quite sure what I was trying to get at. "Anyway," I said, "what are some of the other programs you usually watch?"

"Well," he continued, "there's Pokemon. I really like that one."

"And what's that about?"

"It's about these creatures that can breathe fire and spray water out of their mouths."

"And why do they do that?"

"So they can beat up all the other creatures."

"Oh."

"And I really like Dragon Ball Z, too, which is about these people that have super powers so they can wipe out the evil people from space, and there's...."

"So," asked my wife when I finally emerged from our youngest son's bedroom, "what kind of programs is Kyle watching on television?"

"You don't want to know," I assured her, wondering what had ever happened to 'Big Bird' and 'Mr. Rogers Neighborhood'.

"It's that bad, huh?" my wife asked me.

"Let's just say that he's sure not watching 'Leave it to Beaver' and 'Father Knows Best' in there."

Historic photos at city hall

From the West Sacramento Historical Society

The West Sacramento Historical Society is displaying a photographic exhibition of historic photographs celebrating the diversity of our community, its people, places and activities. The exhibition was produced by Thom Lewis and Jeri Hughes-Wingfield of the Society and can be seen at City Hall, 2101 Stone Boulevard. Various members of our community lent photographs to the Society for duplication and inclusion in the exhibition. The Society thanks all the families who shared their treasured family photos for this exhibit. The exhibition will tour the city after it is displayed in City Hall. Some of the exhibition sites will be La Bou, West Sacramento Land Company, Hollywood Hardware, and The Picnic Place. The exhibition is made possible by the West Sacramento Historical Society, with partial funding from the City of West Sacramento's subvention funds.

The Historical Society has been invited to have an additional exhibit at the Discovery Museum in the Community Gallery during the Heritage Celebration over Labor Day weekend (Sept. 4-6, 1999)

STAN SMITH'S TENNIS CLASS

Sports Insider

By Richard Novoa

The Sacramento Kings are putting the final pieces to their player puzzle by trading for All-Star Nick Anderson and signing a host of free agents. The Kings re-signed Lawrence Funderburke, Jon Barry, Scot Pollard and stole back up point guard Darrick Martin from the Clippers. Anderson, who was traded for Tariq Abdul-Wahad and a future first round pick, will fill in perfectly as the Kings shooting guard the Kings were missing. The 31 year-old Anderson was the last remaining member of the Orlando Magic expansion team of 1989. After the trade the Kings renounced their rights to free agent Vernon Maxwell, who then turned around and signed a three-year deal with Seattle. The last piece of the puzzle remaining for the Kings is to sign Corliss Williamson. Corliss is seeking a long-term deal in the neighborhood of around $49 million for seven years! Good luck Corliss, I don't think the Kings will go that high!

Speaking of high, poor Mitch Richmond, the free agent guard has been passed over by a few teams including the Kings, Warriors and Sonics. It seems no team wants to pay Mitch for his past performance but for his potential. Richmond, who is 31 years old, is still looking for a new team with playoff hopes!

The Giants (58-54) are still reeling after the All-Star break and trail the Arizona Diamondbacks by 5 ½ games in the N.L. West. The Giants are currently 3-7 on this road trip and have been out scored 64-36. The Giants will finish off their road trip in Florida and return home on Friday for a weekend series against the New York Mets.

What a great week for baseball fans as Wade Boggs became the first player to homer for his 3,000th hit, one day after Tony Gwynn collected his 3,000 hit, and two days after Mark McGwire hit his 500th home run.

Speaking of good weeks, the Oakland A's (60-52) continue to battle for the A.L. wildcard spot. The A's gained ground on the Toronto Blue Jays (63-51) and now trail them by only 3 games! A's shortstop, Miguel Tejeda was the A.L. co-player of the week, smacking out 11 hits in 22 at bats, including four doubles, three home runs and 15 RBI. Also, Jason Giambi has a 17 game hitting streak going. Sorry Jason, I hope I didn't jink him! The A's are getting ready for a road series that will make or break their season. After hosting the Yankees this week, the A's will head for Toronto and Boston for a crucial series with both potential wildcard teams.

The 49ers first pre-season is on Thursday at 3-COM Park against the San Diego Chargers and the Niners are all banged up. The 49ers will be short on running backs as Phillips is nursing a sore hamstring and Garner was poked in the eye. Look for the Niners to use a mixture of rookies in the backfield.

The Raiders rookie QB, Scott Dreisbach, brought the Raiders back from a 17-6 deficit to 18-17 win in their first pre-season game against the Rams. The Raiders are idle until August 15th when they host the Dallas Cowboys.

The Sacramento Knights (2-0) of the World Indoor Soccer league, are off to a great start this weekend beating the Dallas Sidekicks on Saturday (7-4) and Sunday (5-4) in a home and away series. Next up for the Knights, is Team Brazil on Sunday, August 15th (7 p.m.) at the Arco.

See ya next week!

News-Ledger Editorial

Worth the wait

Chrys'a-lis, n.: The pupa of insects (esp. of butterflies). See PUPA, COCOON.

The process by which a caterpillar turns into a golden butterfly comes to mind when thinking of the brand, spanking new Margaret McDowell Manor in West Sacramento.

The affordable housing complex for senior citizens is a feather in the community's cap -- but one that emerges from some of the most painful lessons the young city has learned.

The Merkley Ave. complex previously was the Vacation Inn – long since razed.

The Vacation Inn was purchased by the city (for way too much money) largely to "clean it up"; the motel was one of the largest single sources of police calls in the city when it was shut down in the early '90s.

Intending to rehabilitate the structure, the city then learned that asbestos and other problems made that a prohibitively costly operation. Thus the bulldozers.

Meanwhile, attorneys advocating the rights of low income citizens helped some of the people staying in the Vacation Inn sue the city for eliminating their housing. They won rather big – in some ways, so big it defied common sense – and helped force the city to spend millions on constructing new affordable housing.

Then came the city's current partnership with a housing development group to build the new courtyard complex.

Now, at last, a butterfly.

The Washington Unified School District may address several possible violations of state open meeting laws at its next meeting. It should do so, thoroughly, and then vigorously pursue the remedies mandated by law for any violations.

This would go a long way to restoring public faith in the district's leadership.

Meanwhile, the board's agenda for its last meeting appeared "legal." For the first time in memory, the agenda items were described well enough to comply with state law, and closed session items were properly justified.

Letters to the Editor

Inspiring!

The article on Yoshie Iwasaki (News-Ledger, Aug. 4) made me laugh and cry!

I had just driven by the Tule Lake concentration camp returning from a visit to friends in Klamath Falls, and hearing Yoshie's story really brought tears to my eyes. Also, winning her right to keep her property from becoming a high school gave me hope for my own future "battles with city hall."

The article told a wonderful human story about a brave lady.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS

The Sacramento River registered one foot six inches, United States gauge at the Southern Pacific bridge yesterday. This reading was taken at low tide and is not a real indication of the stage of the river at this writing, for it is safe to say that the depth of the stream where the reading was taken is at least six feet. Shoals have appeared above the Southern Pacific bridge to such an extent that apparently an average size man could walk across the river. The effect of the tide on the stream shows plainly an upward turn when the tide is incoming and debris from the wharves being built by the Southern Pacific Company on Front street floats up past the water intake of Sacramento.

As a pastime John Johnson, the night watchman at the West Sacramento headquarters, set up two hives of bees last fall and when about to find if his bees had been busy the other day, he was greatly surprised to find nineteen frames filled with first-class honey. As a matter of fact, bee-keeping in the West Sacramento district is becoming quite an industry and the returns secured are better than the average, owing to the great fields of alfalfa that are allowed to ripen and blossom in the district.

Miss Dixie Chiles spent the week-end with her parents in Chiles Valley, Napa County.

The West Side Auto Camp, under the direction of its owners, McNally & Partridge, received two truck loads of watermelons last Wednesday and went to the trouble of going to the source of supply in order to give their customers the best in the market. So as not to lose time, they drove down Tuesday night and on Wednesday, when their trucks were loaded, they spent the night in traveling from Turlock to West Sacramento. But the melons are wonders, nearly peaches, and the trade those boys are enjoying, especially from auto tourists and neighbors in the vicinity of their camp, is extraordinary.

William Brown, arrested by Constable Buckingham yesterday, was discovered by Judge Barry to be an inmate of the Soldiers' Home at Yountville, but had been indulging in the consumption of canned heat or gas in the vicinity of the M street bridge and in the jungles. Pleading guilty to the charge of being drunk, he resented the imputation that he was a vagrant and expressed his readiness to pay a fine or do anything else to make amends for his sinning, but he did not want to be placed on the black list at the Soldiers' Home. He promised Judge Barry to return to the home as soon as possible and on that account he was given a suspended sentence of thirty days in jail. It only took him five minutes to get to Sacramento and get the first train back to the Soldiers' Home.

Claude Howard and wife, with Frank Todhunter, left here last Saturday to make a trip by auto as far south as Mexico. They disclaimed any idea of getting away from prohibition but a few of their friends joked them about bringing back a toothful of real stuff.

Willie Freese of Riverbank went bathing last Tuesday in the river and in the pockets of his clothes left a watch, a ring and some keys owned by his mother. At the same time three youngsters of the Russian fraternity of Bryte were bathing in the river and leaving the water before the Freese boy, they found the watch, the ring and the keys, and appropriated them. Constable Buckingham managed to secure a confession from them that they had stolen the goods but when they went to find the ring and the keys they could not be located. The watch was returned to Mrs. Freese and a decision has not been reached yet as to what punishment should be meted out to the youngsters, all of whom were less than twelve years of age.

Joe Pereira and wife left here last Saturday to make an auto trip to the northern part of the state. The last heard of them they were in Redding and were then on their way to Pereira's old home in Ft. Jones, Siskiyou County.

W. J. Woods and wife have been in Orange County during the past two weeks on a vacation. Last Monday Woods returned here, leaving his wife with relatives where she will remain for several weeks to come.

M. G. Collins and wife of Chico spent the week-end with Mrs. George, the postmistress of Washington.

Mrs. Louise Smith has returned to her home here after spending two weeks in San Francisco and other Bay points. She was accompanied by her nephew, Charles Leinberger, Jr., of Sacramento, who fulfilled the duties of escort to Mrs. Smith in an admirable manner.

Miss Millie Armstrong spent a few days of the past week at the Leinberger home on a friendly visit. She returned to her home in Cosumnes last Wednesday.

After spending a vacation at Pacific Grove, Mrs. J. N. McNeven and Mrs. Ray Peek and daughter have returned.

Odell Russell and Joseph Eugene have returned to Washington from Fallon, Nev., where they have been visiting with friends and relatives. They were accompanied on the return trip by the Misses Amy and Mildred Hoover, nieces of Eugene. The Hoover sisters will spend several days here visiting with Mrs. Ray Speicher.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Joseph, Charles Todhunter, Romie Barry and Mrs. Ellis Barry have left for a few days' hunting trip in Lassen County.

Mrs. George Beale and daughter are spending a month on a pleasure trip at Santa Cruz.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas spent Sunday visiting with friends and relatives at Vallejo.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Hart, Fred Hart and Mrs. E. C. Reinersman are spending a few days visiting in Carson City, Nevada.

Miss Audrey Richeson, who has been spending a few days in Truckee on a pleasure trip, returned to Washington.

Miss Agnes Butler has returned to her East Sacramento home after visiting a few days with Mrs. Herman Garber of Washington.

After spending a few days visiting with G. C. Colbert of Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Colbert, Newton Colbert and Miss Kathryn Colbert continued on a motor trip which started at Pittsburgh, Pa. They will visit in Shasta County, Los Angeles and other California cities before returning home.

WASHINGTON BOOSTERS' CLUB TAKES ACTIVE INTEREST IN INCORPORATION OF THE TOWN

Although the president and vice president of the Washington Boosters Club, Mrs. A. M. Cameron and Mrs. P. A. Hart, were absent on their vacations last Tuesday evening, a well filled hall greeted the regular meeting of the club.

Ray Peek presided again and active discussion was indulged in for a lengthy period.

The committee that had been appointed at the previous meeting to take up the question of incorporation made a report that it had been in consultation with attorneys but that definite plans had not yet been formed to go ahead with incorporation. Some difficulty had been experienced because so many of the Sacramento attorneys were out of town on their vacations. A full report on the preliminary work in the question of incorporation was promised for the meeting to be held on Tuesday evening, August 5.

It is expected that absent officers will have returned by that time and that further interest will be stirred up in the important question.

There is no doubt whatever that the property owners and voters of Washington are becoming anxious about incorporation. Other towns are framing, under incorporation, to boost their localities and the people of Washington are fully alive to the fact that incorporation seems to be the cure for the evils that inflict the community at the present time.

Perhaps the most vital question that concerns the taxpayers is that of expense following incorporation. Is the assessed valuation sufficient to bring enough revenue to the city authorities to conduct the town in a proper manner?

How much will the road tax that now goes to the county government give to the newly incorporated town?

What will be the expenses of incorporation, and what will be the subsequent expense after incorporation?

What form of government will be adopted, what officers will be elected, and what officials must be paid a salary to conduct the affairs of the community?

All these things are vital in taking a step so important and beneficial to the community.

A committee of the Boosters Club reported last Tuesday evening that the school trustees of the district had been approached about placing a night watchman on the public school building during the next two or three months. The committee, consisting of Mrs. Floris, Mrs. Esycheck and Mrs. Painter, reported that they did not get much satisfaction from the trustees because at the present time there is very little money in the school fund for the district, but the trustees were about to investigate and see what could be done to protect the public school building, especially because there seems to be an epidemic of school fires throughout the state.

The loss of the public school building would bear heavily on the taxpayers of the district because the structure is not yet fully paid for and, besides, another new building would add to the burden of the taxpayers.

Ray Peek reported to the meeting last Tuesday that the M street camp grounds had been greatly improved under the direction of its owner, Mr. Boyd, and that every sanitary precaution had been observed. Mr. Boyd also promised that the appearance of the camp would be changed from its present dilapidated condition as quickly as his finances would permit it.

G. A. Townsend, who has been picking up garbage, appeared at the club to report that so far he had secured only forty-six customers outside the two camp grounds and that most of these wanted only a monthly service for the removal of garbage, tin cans and other refuse. He said that such a number of customers would not pay him to continue the work and that at least there should be a weekly or bi-monthly service.

His charge for hauling away garbage is only 50c for monthly service and $1.00 for weekly service. He reported that all the garbage hauled is being burned at the present time in the dumping ground north of town.

Where garbage is allowed to remain in wooden barrels or kegs, as is sometimes the case, Townsend said there is danger of spontaneous combustion and he had found several receptacles about ready to catch on fire.

T. D. M. Slaven was present at the meeting last Tuesday evening and complimented the club on the progress it was making on the question of incorporation. He partially explained the methods that should be pursued and made an extended talk in favor of the question.

At the meeting to be held on Tuesday, August 5, a large attendance is expected and a full report will be looked for from the committee of investigation.

PREHISTORIC SKELETON FOUND NEAR RAILROAD TRACKS WEST OF TOWN

The mania that has lately developed all over the United States and in fact all over the world to find prehistoric skeletons, prehistoric mammals and prehistoric dinosaurs seems to have spread to this section of the state.

Last Tuesday a Washington boy, digging for angle worms near the overflow west of town, discovered a skeleton. It was such an extraordinary skeleton that he reported his find to some of the Sacramento officers and immediately word was sent to the University of California to start an investigation.

True enough, some professors arrived the next day to investigate the skeleton and to place a date for its existence about three million years before Christ.

All the necessary proofs were there. There were bones, hair, vertebrae and nose horns.

A real live story was in course of publication, something that would surprise the world, something that would outclass the relics of the Gobi desert, relics that antedated the Los Angeles prehistoric find, that at last Washington was about to be put on the map.

But along came a farmer, a real dirt farmer, a man who had lived in the locality for several years and who had been a sufferer from floods and other such inconvenient affairs.

When he heard the professors discussing the merits of the new find he laughed hilariously and when those professors inquired of him the cause of his levity he simply told them.

"That was a skunk I killed last winter for killing my chickens and I buried him there because I dare not bring it nearer to my house."

ELECTION OFFICERS APPOINTED FOR PRIMARY ON AUGUST 26TH

Woodland, July 27.—County Clerk Harry R. Saunders reports today the selection of 212 election officers in the various precincts of Yolo County at the primary election to be held throughout the county on August 26 next. More than half of the officers selected by the board of supervisors, or to be exact, 114 of them, are women electors of the various precincts. One precinct has not a man on the election board. This is Woodland precinct No. 11, where there are six women election officers.

It will be noted that George A. Ball is once again on the Woodland election board in his precinct, a record of well over thirty years that he has served consecutively on county election boards. Ball is quite proud of his record. The roster of election officers for this section of Yolo County is as follows:

FEDERAL DRY AGENTS MAKE RAID ON STILL IN WEST SACRAMENTO

The source of liquor supplies for a large number of itinerant laborers in the western end of the city is believed by officers to have been cut off by a raid made Friday night on a resort conducted by Tom Sumski in West Sacramento. The raid was made by Prohibition Agent W. W. Greer and Sumski was placed under arrest.

Greer was able to obtain only a small quantity of liquor, as Sumski destroyed it as the officer entered the place. He said large numbers of men have been crossing the river from Sacramento to obtain liquor at Sumski's place.

THREE COURTLAND PEOPLE ARE ACCUSED OF FRAUD

BOND POSTPONEMENT HAS NO OPPOSITION IN WEST SACRAMENTO

At the election held in West Sacramento last Friday, July 25, not one single vote was registered against the postponement of payment of bonds that were about to fall due on January 1, 1925, January 1, 1926, and January 1, 1927.

The voting in this instance was done on assessed valuations and while all the property owners did not take advantage of the opportunity to vote, it was significant that the vote represented a total sum of $324,000.68.

The effect of the election will be that the landholders will be relieved of the payment of $171,000 until January 1, 1941, 1942 and 1943.

This potponement was asked because the committee of the bondholders who now have charge of the district felt that this was a poor year to assess this tax on the landholders.

There remains now only one bond issue that is being paid off each year and which will not bear heavily on the property owners within the district.

SACRAMENTO CAPITALIST MADE DEFENDANT IN DIVORCE SUIT

A sacramento daily paper published a story the other day relative to the divorce proceedings brought by Mrs. Agnes McKay against her husband, Charles McKay, who is well known in Washington.

Mrs. McKay was formerly a resident of Washington for several years, having been known as Mrs. Agnes Kinch.

Many residents of Washington will read with sorrow the reasons advanced for the divorce as recited in a daily paper of Sacramento.

Charles McKay, said by his wife to be a retired capitalist worth $60,000, today was made defendant in a suit for divorce filed in the superior court by Mrs. Agnes McKay on the ground of cruelty.

Mrs. McKay, who says the alleged acts of cruelty cited in her complaint occurred while they were living at 4300 H street, asks the court to award her $250 a month alimony. She avers his income is $600 monthly.

In her complaint, Mrs. McKay charges her spouse told her he had another woman to whom he could go any time he wanted and that she loved him and would keep care of him as long as he lived.

She also charges her spouse told her he did not know why he married her; that he wished he could get rid of her and that she either had to leave or take his abuse.

BEET HARVEST HAS STARTED IN HOLLAND DISTRICT

Beet harvesting commenced on several tracts in the Clarksburg district Monday, according to Farm Advisor Warren D. Norton. There is a large acreage of beets in this section, a good yield is reported and prices are good.

Among those who started harvesting Monday are Olson & Swartz, J. C. Marshall and Holmes Brothers.

JOSEPH AND SILVIERA BOYS WOULD SEE THE WORLD IN AUTO

Last Sunday afternoon Frank Joseph, son of E. M. Joseph, the dairyman, of Washington, and Joseph Silviera, a neighbor's boy, both about sixteen years of age, decided that it was time for them to see for themselves what was going on in the wide, wide world.

Appropriating the Joseph automobile, a valuable machine, too, by the way, they started out for the south and wound up in San Jose. A crafty officer noticing their actions and being suspicious that they had stolen the machine, placed them under arrest.

Word was immediately telegraphed to Mr. Joseph and to the Woodland authorities to hold the boys. Mr. Joseph started on the first train for San Jose and brought home the boys, who believe they can go along now without worrying about seeing the world.

THE YOLO COUNTY DEPUTY SHERIFF'S ASSOCIATION PRESENTS
" THE DRIFTERS"
IN CONCERT

Saturday, September 11, 1999 (7 p.m. to 10 p.m.) at the Woodland High School Football Stadium. 21 North West Street, Woodland, CA.

For ticket information call 530-668-0620 or 530-668-1832.

Now, the company has pared down its grocery businesses to but four stores, and two of those are under contract to sell, said Roscoe.

The Customer Company faced citizens' opposition when it announced its plans, bringing criticism from Southport residents who feared the store would attract crime problems by selling liquor and cigarettes and being open late hours.

Then, when it was determined that the planned "Super Cheaper" store met permit requirements, residents challenged the store's impacts on the two-lane Jefferson Blvd. stretch which, at the time, was the only direct connection between Southport and the rest of West Sacramento.

A sometimes-cantankerous battle with the city over traffic studies ended with the developer proving to West Sacramento's satisfaction that its new store would not increase traffic on Jefferson.

Further delays in building then followed. The store now appears nearly complete.

A Tower Mart spokesperson could not immediately be reached for information on the company's plans for its new West Sacramento store.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF ALVIN ELMER SCHLAUCH
CASE NUMBER PB99.135

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, ALVIN ELMER SCHLAUCH:

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by ARLA MAE COTTON in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

THE PETITION requests ARLA MAE COTTON be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on Sept. 2, 1999, at 8:30 a.m. in Dept. 2 located at 725 Court Street, Woodland, CA 95695.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in section 9100 of the California Probate Code. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a formal Request for Special Notice of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in section 1250 of the California Probate Code. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Jessica, who in her spare time enjoys dancing, singing and swimming, and Colleen, who likes to play the piano and participate in gymnastics and tennis, will be competing in modeling routines which include casual and formal wear, and they will also be judged on their interviewing skills and personality.

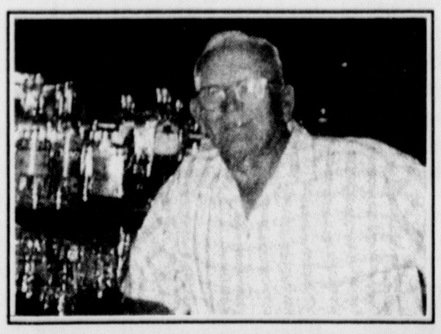

If Jessica or Colleen were to win the title of Miss Jr. Teen Sacramento, they would represent Sacramento and the surrounding communities at the National Competition that will take place in Orlando, Florida, where over $60,000 in prizes will be awarded.

Any business, organization, or private individual who may be interested in becoming a sponsor to either Jessica or Colleen may contact pageant coordinator Thomas DiPaula at 1-800-552-9361.
